

Back Up Trustee Recruitment Pack 2021/22

Registered Charity Nos. 1072216 and SC040577 Company No. 3596996

Welcome

Thank you for your interest in becoming a trustee at Back Up. It is an exciting time to join us. We launched our Transforming Lives strategy in April which will see us support even more people affected by spinal cord injury through a mix of services and online support. We're looking for 2 new trustees to play a vital role in the governance of this passionate charity as we look ahead to the future.

If you're successful in your application, you'll join our team of 11 existing trustees who live far and wide and come from a range of backgrounds with varied interests. They are, however, united by a common interest and passion, and that's to transform the lives of people affected by spinal cord injury.

You may have previous trustee experience or be considering such a role for the first time. All applicants are welcome as we are looking for a range of skills, attributes and experiences. We have developed this pack to demystify the role, so that you have a clear picture of what you'd achieve, how you'd go about it, and assess whether you have the right skills and experience to press ahead with the application.

Having conducted a skills audit of our board, we are seeking a range of applicants to help improve the diversity of our board and meet our strategic ambitions. We would love to hear from applicants with an NHS / health services, psychology, charity service development background and / or fundraising background, and we'd also particularly welcome applications from people affected by spinal cord injury and those from an ethnic minority background.

If you still have questions after reading this our contact details are on the last page. We look forward to hearing from you and good luck with your application.

Yours sincerely,

Jo wright
Chair of Trustees

Information about spinal cord injury and why we exist

Your brain and spinal cord are vital for controlling your bodily functions. The spinal cord is responsible for communicating two-way messages to and from the brain to all parts of the body – your muscles, organs and your skin. We are able to feel pain and move our arms or legs because of these messages or impulses.

If the spinal cord is damaged or injured, some of the messages or impulses may be 'interrupted'. This can lead to partial or total loss of feeling or movement in parts of your body – including your limbs and your internal organs.

Most spinal cord injuries cause loss of movement and feeling in the parts of the body below the level of the injury. If you damage or break your spinal cord close to your neck, this will cause paralysis in a larger part of the body than damage to your spinal cord lower down your back. As well as the physical impact of a spinal cord injury, there are also emotional and psychological effects on the person concerned – and their family.

Statistics

- There are an estimated 50,000 people in the UK living with a spinal cord injury
- Each year over 2,500 people are newly injured.
- Every four hours, someone's life will change forever in the UK because of being spinal cord injured
- Less than a third of people with a spinal cord injury are in employment

In the coming years we believe that there will be a greater need for our services due to;

- The impact of Covid-19 on statutory support services
- local authority funding cuts
- shorter spinal cord injury rehabilitation
- difficulty accessing specialist spinal cord injury rehabilitation (especially for children and people with a spinal cord injury not caused by accidents)

These factors all affect people's wellbeing, their need to maximise their independence, and their ability to participate in normal everyday activities and roles. People with a spinal cord injury have high support needs around employment, and pressure on them to be working is increasing.

Our vision, mission & values

Our vision:

- A world where people affected by spinal cord injury can realise their full potential

Our mission:

- To deliver services that build confidence and independence and inspire people affected by spinal cord injury to transform their lives

Our values:

- We embrace challenge:
Challenge is central to our learning and growth; it helps us gain knowledge and skills. By finding ways to overcome challenge and move forward we gain a sense of achievement, supporting us to realise our full potential.
- We have fun
We believe that having fun allows us to connect with others whilst opening up opportunities to develop, achieve and get the most out of life, showing that there is a positive future after spinal cord injury.
- We build inclusive communities
We achieve more for people affected by spinal cord injury when we work together. We are collaborative and inclusive in our approach. We embrace diversity, working with, and supporting individuals, groups, and the wider spinal cord injury community.
- We are ambitious for each other
We are driven by the needs of people with a spinal cord injury and their families. We are passionate, striving to be the best. We set high standards, and we work hard to reach them. We are proactive, push boundaries, try new approaches and we learn quickly. We recognise that failure doesn't have to equal loss, rather an opportunity for growth. We listen to what people affected by spinal cord injury want and we seek innovative responses based on their feedback.

“Back Up has always had the ability and passion to challenge and change, not just the public’s perception of what can be achieved after a spinal cord injury, but the person and their family who is directly affected. As Covid-19 struck and people affected by spinal cord injury became more isolated, Back-Up launched new ways to reach-out to them. We continuously adapt and change our services as we see people’s rehabilitation and community support reduced over the years. However, the way we deliver our services stays the same and rooted in our values.”

About us

The charity

At Back Up, we inspire people affected by spinal cord injury to get the most out of life. Each year, we reach over 1,000 people with our award-winning services that are designed and delivered by people affected by spinal cord injury.

Back-Up has been voted one of the top ten charities to work for ( Third Sector Best Charities 2020). The enthusiastic, inclusive and supportive spirit of our very skilled staff ensure excellence in the services we deliver.

We offer wheelchair skills training, an accredited mentoring service, proactive telephone support, life skills and activity courses, support returning to work or education as well as support to family members of people with spinal cord injury. Our services are available to people with all levels of spinal cord injury and their loved ones. Find out more about the support we can offer on our website.

Our user-led approach

We know that people affected by spinal cord injury are best placed to know what they need and how to support others in a similar situation. People affected by spinal cord injury are involved throughout Back Up, delivering our services and forming a significant proportion of our staff, volunteers and board of trustees (we always aim for at least 50% of board members to be spinal cord injured.)

We pride ourselves in being innovative and creative to ensure people affected by spinal cord injury drive our strategy and services. Consultation happens at every stage of decision-making, from establishing need, to designing and developing the services, to delivery and then review and recommendations.

Peer support

At Back Up, peer support has always been a central part of our work. Many of our staff and volunteers are affected by spinal cord injury, and they regularly draw on their experiences in the delivery of their jobs. Indeed, we have many staff and volunteer opportunities that are only open to people with lived experience of spinal cord injury because of the specific skillset they require.

Many of the people we support remark that having the chance to speak to others in a similar situation makes a huge difference to their emotional and physical wellbeing. For some, Back Up's services offer the first chance to speak to someone else who understands life with a spinal cord injury. This supportive network can play a vital role in getting back up to living life to the full.

Our current strategy

Our Transforming Lives Strategy was launched in April 2021. Over 300 people helped us create our strategy and carve out the three goals which matter to those we support.

Living confidently - ensuring people with a spinal cord injury have the confidence and practical skills to live a full, independent life.

Thriving at any age – ensuring all people with a spinal cord injury can reach their full potential.

Staying connected – ensuring everyone affected by spinal cord injury can connect with someone in a similar situation, helping them achieve the goals that matter to them.

We are now entering a new phase as we seek to support an increasing number of people with spinal cord injury and their family in current challenging times. Looking ahead, we now know that over 2,500 people are newly injured each year across the UK. With a much bigger spinal cord injured population, Back Up is redefining how we define greatest need, and how we can ensure that we have the greatest impact on the largest number of people possible. These questions will play a central role in the development of our services.

Back Up strategy

2021 - 2025

Components of success

- Being peer driven
- Growing fundraising to meet our ambition
- Developing and empowering our people
- Being inclusive
- Harnessing technology
- Driving efficiency and effectiveness
- Volunteers at our heart
- Compelling communications
- Committed to collaboration
- Open and accountable

About the trustee role

We have a detailed role description and person specification over the next few pages to help you understand the requirements of the role.

The main purpose of our role:

As trustees at Back Up, we are volunteers with a specific legal responsibility to:

- Ensure our aims and objectives are being met
- Act in the best interest of the charity
- Manage responsibility for what we have (our people, our money etc)
- Act with reasonable care and skill

You can find more information from the charity commission.

What you will gain:

- An insight into how a charity runs, particularly how a charity board runs
- A new group of friends and colleagues
- A sense of pride when hearing about the difference our services make and that you have had a role in transforming lives affected by spinal cord injury.
- Confidence in building relationships with a wide range of people and speaking up at meetings
- An opportunity to develop your skills and experiences
- An opportunity to use your skills and experience to the benefit of the charity

Being a trustee is a voluntary role, therefore unpaid, but expenses including for travel are reimbursed.

You will receive a full induction to help you in the role at Back Up. In addition, where there is a training need, a range of training courses are on offer. You'll need to commit time and energy to attend these, building up your knowledge so that you feel confident in the role. This often takes longer than you think, but we understand that – we were all new trustees once too.

Trustee Person Specification

Key Skills

- knowledge of and ability to carry out the core responsibilities of being a charity trustee
- able to think about the 'bigger picture' and longer term (5 years ahead) as well as think about the 'here and now' (being strategic versus being operational)
- act as an ambassador for Back Up, promoting our work to friends and colleagues
- able to comment, challenge or question in a way that is helpful, supportive and constructive
- be timely and clear in your communication on and around meetings or projects

Qualifications and Experience

Specific experience that would be useful to Back Up. You may have one or more of these:

- financial management / commercial skills or qualifications
- access to networks of wealthy and/or influential people who can make a difference to Back Up
- personal experience of spinal cord injury (target 50% of trustees with SCI)
- experience of working with other teams and organisations
- experience of volunteering/working in the voluntary sector
- experience as a professional working in the NHS, spinal or vocational rehabilitation
- other specific areas of expertise as may be specified by the board from time to time

Personal Attributes

- integrity and honesty
- proactive – seek out answers to your questions without a prompt
- a demonstrable commitment to Back Up's aims and values
- honest, reliable, enthusiastic and conscientious
- team player, flexible and adaptable
- willingness to understand and hear about issues relating to spinal cord injury

Time Commitment

- currently, three and a half hourly board meetings four times a year, evenings in SW London (currently online)
- one to two away-days per year, a mix of week days and weekends (currently online meetings)
- two hour committee meetings (four times per year)
- prior to meetings spending two to three hours reading and absorbing information,
- reflecting and discussing by telephone

- follow up to meetings – reading and commenting on minutes, carrying out any
- agreed actions

Restrictions

- over 18
- not bankrupt
- subject to satisfactory DBS check and references
- not excluded by Companies House or Charity Commission
- conflicts of interest that would be so significant as to undermine the role in general. E.g. was a member of a group that discriminated against people based on gender or ethnicity
